Foreword

The 1962 Spartana Staff elected to present its yearbook as an adaptation of that period in our nation's history known as the "Roaring Twenties."

Although the Twenties were gaudy and carefree years, they also symbolized a time when people found a need to examine their own goals and the goals of their nation.

The coming of the automobile and the mechanization of industry brought new problems and new challenges. Having been encouraged to leave their farms and establish their homes in industrialized cities, workers became aware of their great need for education as machines began to take over routine jobs.

Similarly, we, as high school graduates, face the problems and challenges of changing times. If we are to succeed, we must be prepared to meet these challenges—and education paves the way to preparation. Our educations have just begun; graduation is the commencement of a lifetime of learning.

Mr. Springfield Ray Fluharty

Ray, the Senior Class decided, most nearly personifies the ideal high school male student. Successfully maintaining a high scholastic average, he has actively participated in sports and club activities and has served as president of National Honor Society during his senior year. Sincerity, dependability, and ready willingness to be of service are Ray's trademarks which have established his reputation as an outstanding example of all that is finest in the modern American young man.

Miss Springfield Charlotte Summerton

Charlotte was chosen by her classmates as the Senior girl most representative of the ideal high school co-ed. Her lively interest in all about her; her warmth, sincerity, and friendliness; her conscientiousness, dependability, and willingness to assume responsibility, her service to school and classmates are truly indicative of those attributes most desirable in the modern American girl.

MR. CARL COFFEEN

The Senior Class of Springfield High School in thoughtful appreciation for your many years of devoted service to the students of Summit County affectionately dedicates its yearbook, the 1962 SPARTANA, to you, Mr. Coffeen. Your patient understanding, expert guidance, friendly influence, and wise and kindly counsel have won for you a lasting place in the hearts of all who have known you.

The President of this club is Bonnie Brannon; Vice President, Margaret Quigley; Secretary, Linda Selzer; Treasurer, Doshie Brown. Advisors are Miss Louise Nolt and Mrs. DeMaris Callen.

F. T. A.

The Co-op training program, under the supervision of Mr. K. O. Myers, is open to all seniors who are at least 16 years of age. Providing practical vocational instruction and experience in retail and wholesale jobs, each student must work at least 15 hours per week, while attending two classes in Sales and Merchandising per day, in addition to other required high school work. The Co-op class sells all advertising for the Spartana, thereby meeting half the cost of the book.

Co-op

These members of Co-op are preparing to leave afternoon classes for their jobs.

Election into the National Honor Society is the highest honor a high school student may attain. An over-all scholastic average of 88 per cent is necessary for a student's name to be placed on an eligibility list which is submitted to the faculty for consideration. On the basis of character, leadership, service, and scholarship, no more than 5 per cent of the junior class and 15 per cent of the senior class may be selected for membership. Ray Fluharty is president; Janet Hardy, vice president; Judy Mitchell, secretary; Robert Ellis, treasurer; Karen Sharp, chaplain. Mr. D. J. Myers is advisor of the group.

The leading characters in "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" are: Janet Hardy, Dave Moreck, Tom Garduno, and Linda Roberts.

Stella and Limbo seem to have a slight disagreement, which amazes the onlookers.
